Hi Sonali,

Thanks for the email about the current status of numbers. I've already given the embargoed press release to CDC and several reporters, including New York Times as mentioned in this email thread. Because $65 million is still above the $60 million that we had changed it to per your request this morning, we'll be factually accurate on all the materials we changed – including the website/release – and keep the $60 million in all those places.

Thanks for your understanding,
Natasha
