

THE DAILY SIGNAL

The Daily Signal is The Heritage Foundation's exclusive site for policy and political news as well as conservative commentary and policy analysis. It is ranked as one of the Top 20 conservative websites in America based on traffic.

As part of Heritage, The Daily Signal features commentary written by nationally renowned experts in economics, health care, law, defense, and a myriad of other topics. As such, our articles often feature in-depth analysis and facts one can't find in most other news outlets. Yet they are written not only for decision-makers but for the general public as well.

Readers and subscribers represent an influential audience and include members of Congress and the administration, members of the media, state leaders, those in the conservative movement, Heritage members, and grassroots conservatives across the nation.

Ranked one of the top 20 conservative websites in America.
(Based on Comscore data of unique visitors.)

12.6 million readers in 2022.
55.6 page views in 2022.
4.6 million page views per month.

Average engaged time: 1:04 minutes.
Our content resonates with readers!
(North American average: 32 seconds.)

Over 18 million video views in 2022.

450,000 subscribers get 5-10 stories delivered to their inboxes each day via The Morning Bell email.

Every article and interview gets featured on the front page with approx. 60 articles a week, not hundreds. This brings more visibility to each piece.

313,000 page views for the most read story in 2022. 33 stories received over 100,000; 61 stories received 50,000.

Stories are cited by: New York Times, Washington Post, CNN, USA Today, PBS, The Guardian, Fox News, Politico, MSNBC, and more.